

Confederation for Analytical Psychology

Psychotherapists and Counsellors for Social Responsibility

International Association for Jungian Studies

Psychotherapy and Politics International

TERROR COMES TO LONDON - A SECOND MEETING

This will be a second Open Forum for psychological and political reflection, again chaired by Andrew Samuels.

Participants at the first meeting – which was productive and interesting - suggested a follow-up. We very much hope that people who could not attend last time will think about coming. We also suggest that participants in the first meeting invite others.

It will be the fourth in a series of such meetings organised by CAP, in conjunction with other organisations. The previous meetings occurred at the times of NATO's bombing of Kosovo and, more recently, 'States of Terror', at the time of the Tsunami in the Indian Ocean and just prior to the General Election.

There will be no charge for admission and a collection will be taken on the night to defray expenses. Any surplus will be donated to a relevant charity. ALL ARE WELCOME; THIS IS NOT RESTRICTED TO CLINICIANS.

It would help us if you would e-mail CAP's Administrator Ruth Williams to say that you are coming: Tel: 020 7515 2012 or email ruthwilliams@msn.com

Venue:* Association of Jungian Analysts, 7 Eton Avenue, London NW3

Date:* Friday September 16th 2005

Time:* 8 – 10 pm